

McGahey to Head Rotary

Village attorney David McGahey has been elected 1959-60 president of the Palm Springs Rotary Club, it was announced here today.

McGahey was elected in a meeting which also saw these officers voted in:

Clarence Brechlin, first vice president; Dr. Dwight Twist, second vice president; Donald Fry, third vice president; and Jerome Bunker, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

The new officers will be joined on the organization's board of directors by outgoing president Dr.

William P. Aikin and by F. Gillar Boyd, Jr., Robert Peterson and James Cavett.

In other action at the election meeting, Rotarians designated Ronald Ellis, Karl Paul and Dr. Aikin to represent Palm Springs Rotarians at the annual convention of Rotary International scheduled for June 7-11 in New York's Madison Square Garden. A total of 111 nations and geographic locations are to be represented at the conclave.

Saund Introduces Bill

A bill that could result in an unprecedented building boom in both Riverside and Imperial counties was introduced in the House this week, Congressman D. S. Saund reported today.

The bill, authored by Colorado Congressman Wayne N. Aspinall, would consolidate, revise and enact public land townsite laws.

ASPINALL'S BILL, sought by Interior Assistant Secretary Roger Ernst, would update administration of public land townsites throughout the U. S.

Provisions of the bill, Saund noted, would make it possible for many communities in this area to expand their present boundaries and would also enable creation of entirely new towns and cities.

"I BELIEVE," said the 29th District Congressman, "the time is now ripe for a comprehensive revision of the townsite laws in their entirety in order to remove the shackles of red tape which have hampered the development of many of our desert and mountain areas."

Saund said that since the 1800s, little use has been made of the public land townsite laws because of the confusion and great technical difficulty it entailed.

SAUND ENVISIONED expansion of many towns in this area as a result of successful enactment of the new bill and said that he would also expect to see "entirely new towns and cities... created." "There is no reason why... a period of unparalleled growth and development may result in Southern California, and much of it in our district."

Council Wants Money, Not Ring

No Use, Storage Located

After a detailed check and hours of investigation, Parks and Recreation Director Kaye Hall recommended that the city not accept the offer from Roy Strong to keep the prize fight ring in the resort city.

Hall said that he checked with the local Boys' Club, school administration, and other probable users of the ring, but found no interest.

Strong, proposed giving the ring to the city for $700, the amount owed to the city for the use of the Rodeo Grounds during Desert Circus Week. He said that if the city did not accept the offer, the backers would have to come up with the money.

The main worry of the city was "what to do with the ring if the city did take it." There was nowhere that it could be stored.

The City Council was not sympathetic to the situation when the backers of the fight reported that they lost $4,000 on the fights and asked for relief, but when a reduction of the fee to be paid to the city was requested this week at least one councilman said that "maybe it should be brought down a couple hundred dollars."

Just Getting Started

BOSTON (UPI)—When a reporter asked 84-year-old Rear Admiral Donald B. MacMillan how he was getting along with his autobiography, the noted Arctic explorer replied:

"Fine. I've already written 100,000 words and I'm not born yet."

DISCUSSING ENDOWMENT plan which is to be result of John Harnish Fund, the donor, left, and John F. Moulds, assistant to the president of Pomona College, enter into talks in the beautifully-landscaped yard of Harnish's Palm Springs home.

cause, council members believe, they could then be held responsible if anything happens to the flow of water from the springs.

Spa, Inc. in installing the type of reservoir they have to confine the waters of the mineral springs, claim that they have done the city a great service in keeping the street from breaking up, and have cut the city maintenance costs on Indian Avenue. For this they want the city to share by $6,000 in defraying the cost of Indian Avenue engineering.

—TO TOP IT ALL off, some members of the council just don't think that they should have anything to do with the giving of financial assistance to developers.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker—who attempted fruitlessly to get council acceptance of the B Plan by Spa—was reprimanded by Councilman George Beebe, and it was necessary for Mayor Frank Bogert to call for order and silence. Beebe by saying "Bunker is hired to advise, and you should listen to him."

"If I want advice from him," Beebe snapped, "I'll ask him for it—I don't want him volunteering it."

BEEBE THEN turned to Philip Konig, architect for the Spa, Inc., and asked what would happen if the city took the recommendation of the Planning Commission. Konig indicated that the city would not get the right-of-way on Tahquitz.

Discussions on the matter will continue today, when members of the council, city administrators and representatives of Spa, Inc., will be present at an adjourned meeting of the council to be held in the Council Chambers of the City Hall at 4 p.m.

Council Delays Accepting Clark Resignation

City Council last night delayed acceptance of the resignation of John Porter Clark from the Planning Commission and decided they, either collectively or individually, would talk to him about withdrawing it.

Clark asked the council to accept his resignation "because of the pressure of increasing business and my inability to attend meetings."

Councilman Ted McKinney, however, asked the council to consider carefully the resignation and pointed out, "John is one of our best members and well versed in the planning of the city. We should try to retain him in this important position and it would be good if we could talk him into staying on the commission."

Council concurred with the appeal of McKinney and held off the acceptance of the resignation for two weeks. Clark had asked that his resignation be accepted "not later than June 1."

Record Crowds Attend Ramon Birthday Fete

Initial reaction to Ramon Drug's 12th anniversary celebration have indicated that Villagers, like the ownership and staff, consider the long-established pharmaceutical house "the friendliest store in town." Owner Hy Finerman said today.

The four-day observance of the anniversary has brought record numbers of shoppers into the store," Finerman said.

"EACH PATRON HAS been given a 'Bonanza Bag' on entering the store," Finerman said. "We're having trouble keeping enough bags stored up to meet the demand."

Finerman also noted that Ramon Drug personnel has been kept busy wrapping the "super" gifts—given out to anyone engaged in making a purchase when an alarm sounds in the store.

RAMON DRUG'S 12th anniversary fell almost on the date of the filling of the 125,000th prescription by the Village pharmaceutical house, he said.

Finerman said that this eminence in fulfilling drug needs was predicated on the fact that Ramon Drug pharmacists keep abreast of new developments in scientific research.

Freedom From Insect Pests Adds to Enjoyment of Desert

Compared to many other sections of the country and world, the desert region has always been relatively free from many of the smaller insect pests.

The notorious duo of human annoyances elsewhere, fleas and mosquitoes, are virtually unknown in this warm dry climate, and even if "imported" do not long survive under normal conditions.

Due to irrigation in the agricultural section to the south some trouble with gnats was experienced for a time, but has been virtually eliminated by chemical treatment of that area and the adoption of an extermination program.

Flies are occasional nuisances around lawn planting time, but with a City ordinance proposed permitting only non-fly breeding chemical fertilizers, prospects are encouraging to control this most common nuisance in the seasons ahead.

In this particular part of the desert, wildlife is sparse in animal and fowl kingdoms consisting of occasional glimpses of a scampering pack rat, Mojave squirrel, jack rabbit or harmless lizard. The symbolic fowl is the long-legged roadrunner, with some dove, quail and the usual variety of small birds.

No part of the United States is free from reptiles and the desert does have its famous "sidewinder" which is more feared than seen unless one goes out of the way to search. Most residents who have lived here for many years have rarely met him due to his tendency to avoid inhabited areas.

All in all this is one of the few places where people can enjoy the great out-of-doors day or night without some form of annoyance, even from the weather which nine times out of ten is exactly what was wanted and confidently expected.

Add to this a mixture of majestic mountains, shimmering sands, bright sun or stars and invigorating ozone and one can well say that Palm Springs is one place where nature is nearest to perfection most months of the year.

Get Off The Line!

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Any night on television, you can see the before-and-after type of commercial in which the sufferer from headaches, stomach gases and other ills is instantly relieved by medication, but it does not work that way in politics. For example, there's the before-and-after condition as illustrated by Connecticut's two U.S. Senators, Bush (R) and Dodd (D).

Up till last year Connecticut could be called a Republican State in national affairs. All six Representatives and both its Senators were members of the GOP. But the upheaval of the 1958 election was dramatized in Connecticut as nowhere else. All six Republican Congressmen, plus a Republican Senator, were turned out of office. It was a drastic medication, if there ever was one. The before-and-after evolution was swift and fierce. And what are the results?

THE RESULTS. I think, are very meager, and may be examined by a comparison of these two Senators in the 86th Congress. The tall, dark, handsome Prescott Bush arrived in the same year with President Eisenhower and is essentially the same sort of political thinker—apt to be liberal on human rights; apt to be conservative about financial affairs.

But in this Congress, the emphasis has shifted toward the financial affairs of the nation. Bush, a banker in private life, apparently foresaw this, as did President Eisenhower. On Nov. 5 at a press conference, the President made his well-remembered attack upon the "radicals" and "spenders" of the incoming Congress.

ON JAN. 14, BUSH made a penetrating address in the Senate where he dubbed "inflation in America" as the Soviet Union's most deadly weapon against us. The Senator went on to offer a six-point program to halt inflation. Since then he has voted consistently to hold the line on Federal spending.

Not very surprisingly, Bush's position on the big spending bills has been almost exactly opposite to that of his Democratic colleague, Thomas Dodd. On the bills for omnibus housing, for airports, for area renewal, Bush was the Saver and Dodd the Spender. Each Senator has followed his party line, Bush as the Modern Republican, Dodd as the Latter Day Democrat.

BUT — SO WHAT? The before-picture in Connecticut and the nation is not markedly different from the after-picture. The ailments which caused the Democratic sweep in the 1958 elections are not cured. We still have industrial unemployment, agricultural glut, too much Federal spending and creeping inflation. Try as you will, there is no way to show that the country can be advantaged by heaving out Republicans and bringing in Democrats.

The parties, while not identical, are too much alike to render any real improvement. It is only when the statesmen depart from their parties' lines that we get something that approaches creative thinking, hence creative readjustment. It is possible, I think, to demonstrate this point from the examples of Senators Bush and Dodd.

WHILE IT IS easy to express pity for the unemployed and regret at the plight of cities which have lost their industries, Bush has gone a degree deeper into the overall subject of economic well-being. The rising cost of living affects both workers and those out of work. Bush feels that "price stability" belongs on

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
The Desert Sun:
Your editorial of April 16 on the wisdom of establishing a Desert Park is most timely, for, unless we act soon, skyrocketing land values will make it very difficult if not impossible to preserve any of the valley floor in its natural state.

The San Joaquin Valley used to have one of the great wildflower displays of the world, attracting thousands of visitors; but because the people of Bakersfield lacked the foresight to establish a Park, the sheets of flowers which once carpeted the southern end of the valley are now but a memory. Let us hope that before it is too late, Palm Springs will set aside a sizeable area of desert dunes where in the years to come residents as well as visitors will still be able to see and enjoy the Coachella Valley's famed floral trio of sand verbena, desert gold, and dune primrose.

In regard to the "hilly region above Palm Desert," I would like to suggest that the "State wildlife and game refuge" mentioned in your editorial is not comparable with parks or national forests. The refuge merely prohibits hunting. It does not protect the land, as would the Desert Park which you propose for the valley floor.

Since the hills back of Palm Desert support an exceptionally fine herd of the rare bighorn sheep, I think we should also consider the needs of that region from a conservation standpoint. Before more of the desert slopes of the mountains are opened up for development, it is especially vital that some plan be devised to protect the few water holes, without which the bighorns can not survive the summer.

So now to tell in Figures graphic
What can befall
In auto traffic.

Have just received my annual booklet from the Travelers Insurance Companies covering the year 1958.

IT PRESENTS in detail the highway toll for 1958, who and what caused the accidents, and so on.

Most astounding figure to me was the statement that since the advent of the automobile, more than 60 million Americans have been killed or injured on the highways.

WAS IN A GROUP discussing traffic accidents the other day and one person said:

"It's the young kids who cause most of the crashes."

A well known barrister present snorted and said:

"How about the kids over 70? The old goats are worse in my estimation."

Well this book of statistics—and I'm the one who gets starry-eyed over statistics — proved him wrong.

LAST YEAR, drivers under 25 years of age who constitute but 14 per cent of all registered drivers, were responsible for 27 per cent of all accidents.

The old goats (65 and over) were the cause of 5.9 per cent. And do you know, the statistics show that familiarity still breeds contempt?

Drivers with the longest experience on the highways, caused 97.1 per cent of all auto deaths.

So don't think you know it all. You don't.

ONE FINAL FLING at the statistics and I'll let you go back to the comic page.

Stay home on Saturdays. That's when 20 per cent of the deaths on the highways occur.

And if you have to go out on Saturdays, don't take to the highways before 6 a.m. Between 1 and 6 a.m. three times as many deaths occur than during any other single hour of the day.

NOW I WOULD like to report a switch to you.

You've heard me beef about thoughtless drivers who park so that they occupy two parking places.

In fact, for a nominal fee, you can buy in novelty shops, such insulting cards as:

"Thanks for occupying two parking places. I had to park four blocks away, you stupid, inconsiderate (barred by the U.S. Postal laws.)"

HOWEVER, here in The Desert Sun office are two gentlemen, one Fred Weigel and the other Jim Page, who own Isettas. You know, these abbreviated front entrance little foreign cars.

The other day they were both parked in one parking space. And they were told by Chuck Travers of the traffic squad that they were subject to a ticket.

TWO CARS can't park in one place he said.

Well, I can see the reason. Two cars and only one meter and that would entail a fracture of the law. Tossing a nickel to see who would put it in the parking meter.

I must report, though, that it was just a gag. They really didn't get a ticket.

But with all of these small foreign cars, that could prove a problem.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

On this gray New York morning, we got in the car and drove down the turnpike to see Mr. Max Hess of Allentown, Pa.

For some time I have been getting mail about Mr. Hess and the Hess Bros. department store.

It has been a lively but confusing chorus. On one piece of stationery, Hess is pictured as a merchant of flamboyance.

HE COMES OUT of the next envelope a sober-sided. One foot on conservative merchandising, the other in the Chamber of Commerce.

An advertising man met me on the third floor, where the Hess command post is located in an annex of pastel modern offices.

"BOTH SIDES ARE TRUE," said Mr. Max Levine. "Mr. Hess is a genius of merchandising. At the same time he is a wizard of promotion. Like when we brought Santa Claus to the roof in a helicopter and had him come down a fire department ladder."

"The City Council was so upset about the traffic jam," said Levine, proudly, "they passed a law against helicopters landing on roofs."

"And Santa Claus no longer comes to Allentown?"

"NO; HESS BROS. is noted for bringing Santa Claus to Allentown. Now we land him at the fairgrounds. Last year he parachuted in."

I asked if we could see Mr. Hess in his office.

Levine looked a little worried. "Mr. Hess has no office," he said. "We all have offices. But Mr. Hess has never taken one."

"Where is he now?"

LEVINE SAID he thought he would either be in the restaurant or the toy department.

"Mr. Hess is crazy about toys. And the Patio restaurant in the basement — we have the only bar in a department store, by the way — the restaurant is his hobby."

Mr. Hess came up after a while. He is a trim man of mid-40 with a shy manner. He threw a vice president out of an office and we sat down. The vice president went out and stood by the coke machine.

HE SAID HESS BROS. was started in 1897 by his father and uncle. In a hotel on that very spot.

"We employ 1,500 people and have more customer traffic per square foot than any other store in the world."

"The reason we bid for attention is because of our position. We have a trading area of 400,000 families in a city of 110,000. New York is 90 miles away and Philadelphia is only 60. We have to make Hess more important than either of them."

"People come in here to see what we are going to do next."

HESS LET THE vice president back in his office and we went out to see the store.

"We have a barber shop, a delicatessen, bakery, candy store and drug counter," said Hess.

"There are 14 injunctions against the drug store for underselling the competition."

"When things get dull we start the grass-cutting machines."

Hess climbed on the grass cutter and started the engine. PUT-PUT-PUT.

A CROWD OF people gathered around obligingly while he explained you could not only cut grass with it. "Pull up the blade and drive it downtown."

"The other departments hate him when he does that," said Levine happily.

WE WENT BACK and watched Hess throw out several auditors from their office while he ushered in an international gossip columnist.

"Nobody told me we had artichokes on the menu," he called accusingly, over his shoulder.

Levine sighed. "He's been down in the restaurant again," he said. "Mr. Hess keeps his eye on everything."

EARL WILSON:

Greatest Actor Now Lazy

NEW YORK — The slim, neat, sensitive middle-aged Englishman who has been called the world's greatest actor sat eating his chop in a 12th St. restaurant with a broad-shouldered open-shirted American director half his age who puzzles actors at rehearsals by shadowing them.

Sir John Gielgud was sagely silent when director John Frankenheimer half laughingly said, "I find it good to get right on top of the actor."

"Actors usually say it's a relief when the camera is on them instead of me."

Gielgud came from London to do "The Browning Version" and be bossed by this 29-year-old husky who likes to stick his face up in actors' faces at rehearsals to see if they're emoting properly. And though he had won a reputation as a director himself, Sir John had divined that the young brute had a point — and they were seeing eye to eye.

"One thing John won't tell you about is the responsibility of being called the greatest actor in the world," the other John said. Sir John removed a Greek cigarette from a slim case.

"One expects to have an easier time as one gets older," his voice was a little weary. "But when you get older you're always having to top your average."

"I'm so surprised," he continued, "that American people ask you how you get to have a reputation as an actor."

"In the first place," he spoke quietly and politely — "I don't know myself, and if I did know, I would want to keep it as a trade secret. I do know this — I don't like acting as much as I used to."

This from the W.G.A. was news: "I prefer directing," he said.

"But why?"

"You don't have to do it every night for one thing."

Still, he saw little chance of giving up acting to direct. "Directing is my hobby—that's why I like it more," he decided.

Sir John made his British TV debut a few weeks ago and they're still talking about it. When he does "The Browning Version" tonight on CBS' Du Pont "Show of the Month" opposite Margaret Leighton, he will be as tremulous as an amateur—it'll be his second performance on American live TV.

"You can destroy your reputation so quickly," he said, "and they only see it one night."

"You're keyed up—and can't tell how its going . . . you just know its gone forever and you can't do it again . . ."

The American John looked quickly at his watch. He said to the English John, "Don't you think we'd better go? We're due at a rehearsal." The two Johns strode out, the American John keeping a very close watch on the English John, the greatest actor known to man.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . The smart trick in Washington now is to pose for a picture with one of Fidel Castro's several very willing aides. They're such look-alikes you can't tell the difference . . . Carol Channing, a riotous hit before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, in Wash'n, was so busy getting costumed, she had to turn down an invitation to meet Vice Pres. Nixon.

Joan Collins came with director George Englund to the Blue Angel, where his sister-in-law, Clai-borne Cary (sister of actress Cloris Leachman, his estranged wife), is featured. He and Clai-borne had a long talk . . . Christine Jorgenson bought a mink stole . . . Diana Dors and her husband will appear at the Latin 14.

The late Lou Costello's daughter Carol will be screen-tested by 20th Century-Fox . . . Errol Flynn's playmate in Havana has been Ida Puente, the bandleader's ex-wife . . . Jerry Lewis tried to coax the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to do a bit in his "Don't Give Up the Ship" film, but the duke said nope . . . Maria Callas hired three limousines to cart her 43 suitcases to the airport for a short hop to Detroit . . . Jack Dempsey's restaurant partner, Jack Amiel, beat $250 on the horse "Manassas Mauler" (Dempsey's nickname); it paid $4 to 1.

Beldon Kattelman of El Rancho Vegas flew in with his wife for a party, flew right back . . . Shirley Temple's taking singing lessons, using Johnny Mathis' coach . . . Dorothy Lamour's becoming a fur stylist, will model her own stuff . . .

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Time Is Too Precious

HOLLYWOOD — It's a truism that time and tide wait for no man. It's a HOWL that the title of Marilyn Monroe's next movie for Fox (about the Tennessee Valley Authority) is titled "Time and Tide" — because I can't think of a single newsmen who hasn't waited an hour or more for Marilyn to show up for an interview.

And the triple-whammy to this story is Marilyn's ultimatum to the studio: "I want the sound stage closed to all newspapermen while I'm shooting the picture." Don't worry, Marilyn, m'dear, my TIME is too precious and the deadline TIDE rises swifter and swifter with each passing day. Besides, Marilyn, think of all those other blondes who never keep a reporter waiting.

So close your soundstage, Miss Monroe.

We newsmen know just where to go:

To Columbia, clear off the beaten track.

For an interview with one Kim Novak

Or that fit-to-be-TIED Brigitte Bardot!

Patriotic George Gobel puts it this way: "Always stop your car to give a serviceman a lift — and, if you can't find a serviceman, pick up a civilian and talk him into enlisting!"

Sir Laurence Olivier advised Fox he'll be glad to play the British Consul in "The Hell-raiders," but with a big IF — IF Ingrid Bergman will play the Chinese Mandarin queen . . .

Meanwhile, Olivier's Fair Lady, Vivien Leigh, has bowed out of playing Monty Clift's mother in Tennessee Williams' film version of "Suddenly Last Summer" — the one who fights to keep her son from marrying Liz Taylor, following which he is eaten by cannibals.

THAT'S BECAUSE Lady Vivien has decided to star in a London stage revival of Ibsen's "A Doll's House" instead. Now, if the moviemakers are smart, they'll sign up that magnificent Cathleen Nesbitt who played the mother in the Hollywood Ivar Theatre stage version and is now repeating her fabulous performance in Chicago's Civic Theatre.

Spending of Sir Laurence, he's planning a movie based on the base character he portrayed in Angry Young John ("Look Back in Anger" Osborn's sleazy play, "The Entertainer" with Jean Simmons as his daughter.

Debbie Reynolds ran into the ex-chauveur of her ex-hoss at MGM, Dore Schary, and asked what he's been doing since Schary moved lock-Loew's-stock-and-barrel back to New York to write a followup to his successful Broadway play, "Sunrise at Campobello." In true-to-type Hollywood style, Andy replied, "I'm freelancing, Miss Reynolds."

CHANNEL CHATTER — Tearing a leaf from Liberace's "I laughed all the way to the bank," Lloyd Bridges shrugs off the fact that his Sea Hunt series wasn't nominated for an Emmy with "I get my Emmys from the Bank of America!"

I like Dinah Shore's new formula of kidding herself, especially beaming clips of the mistakes she has made on her show and doing that takeoff with guests Lana Turner, Kay Starr and Carl Reiner of her coming-down-the-stairway bit. I like it, I like it, do you?

SCRIPTERS FOR the Bold Venture series are having fun kidding themselves too. Among the titles they have tacked into various segments for the adventure strip are "The Naked and the Fat," "Dial M for Mother," "Build My Gallows Ankle High," "Some Came Sleeping," "From Here to Paternity" and "The Massive Hemorrhage of Jamie Kent."

Aldo Ray fluffed a line while shooting the pilot for the new Riverboat series at Revue to scratch his nose, explaining, "To itch is human, to scratch divine."

Real crazy is the casting of Betty Hutton's leading man in her new situation-comedy family series, now shooting. He's the very dignified brother of George Sanders, that teddily dignified Britisher, Tom Conway.

IT NEVER fails in Flimtown —they fire 'em and then hire 'em back for twice the original dough. Latest example is Frank Gifford, halfback for the New York Giants, dropped by Warner-TV a month ago but now back on the payroll and on his own terms: permission to take time off from his five-times-a-week sportscasts next fall for CBS — opposite his WarnerTV outlet, ABC!

The movie-and-TViviers are all hot to sign Jackie Gleason's gorgeous daughter Geraldine but her mother won't let her so much as listen to the rustle of a contract until she gets her Bachelor of Arts degree from Marymount College here.

Secrecy Veils Airport Land Bid

Airports Director Joe Marriott told the Board of Supervisors this week that the airport commission has received a tentative offer of purchase for the eastern 1,150 feet of the Blythe Airport property, consisting of some 919 acres.

The name of the prospective buyer and his intended use of the property, other than that it will be used for industrial purposes, were withheld.

IN ACQUIESCENCE to Mar-riott's request the supervisors authorized advertising for sale of the property and taking of steps to obtain an instrument of release from the federal aviation agency to permit sale.

They adopted a resolution to accompany the application for release, obligating the county to use proceeds from the sale for airport development purposes.

MARRIOTT SAID the acreage lies partly on the lower mesa to the southeast and partly on the northeast upper mesa and is far removed from the operational area of the airport.

According to Marriott the terms and conditions of sale are being coordinated with county counsel. He said the property will be sold to the highest bidder if the bid equals to or is greater than the appraisal value. He said the prospective purchaser has indicated he will bid on the property at a figure which compares favorably with appraised land values in the area.

Tall Tree

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Ernie Kolbe, chief forester for the Western Pine Association, has come up with a hybrid ponderosa tree. His tree, five years old, stands about 15½ feet tall. Ordinary ponderosa pines of this age would be about knee-high, Kolbe reports. His fast-growing ponderosa has been crossed with a Jeffrey pine from California and is growing in the rich ground of an old chicken yard.

Board Spearheads Study Of Future Water Needs

The Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution this week asking the county flood control and water conservation districts to budget for and make whatever studies are necessary to determine the amounts and time of demand for supplemental Northern California water for all areas within its district.

"There is need to review estimated future water requirements of the Department of Water Resources as they pertain to Riverside County," they declared, "and to make such additional water supply and demand studies as may be required to more accurately determine the time-demand relationship."

Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the Coachella Valley County Water District and the Palo Verde Irrigation District with requests that they adopt similar resolutions and forward them back to the supervisors in order that the combined request of the three districts may be channeled through the one agency.

The supervisors said that supplemental water in excess of that now available from the Colorado River will be required in Riverside County if it is to maintain its present rate of growth and industrial development.

At least 100 million acres of the United States have never been surveyed.

San Jacinto Upsets Tribe 4-2

Jordan, Akins Rated Even in Fight for Title

Welters Meet in 15-Round Return Bout in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — UPI — Everything was going for young Don Jordan today, but the young welterweight champion was no better than an even bet to defeat a "hungry" ex - titleholder, Virgil Akins, tonight in his first title defense.

On Jordan's side were youth, confidence and an impressive record. He won the crown from Akins Dec. 6 and since then knocked out one other foe to run his winning streak to 11 fights. He has been beaten only once in his last 18 matches.

Akins, seven years older than Jordan at 31, has stumbled to defeat by Del Flanagan and trailed Charlie Tomblstone Smith for nine rounds before he rallied for a knockout win in his other bouts since he won the title a year ago.

Despite the disparity in their recent records, a crowd of upwards of 7,500 was expected to pay between $30,000 and $55,000 to watch them go the championship distance of 15 rounds, or less should either battler manage to put in a knockout punch.

Odds-makers listed the bout as 3-4, meaning the gambler can pick his favorite and then win 75 cents for each dollar bet.

Souchak Tops Champ Field By 2 Strokes

Longshots Parade In Front in First Day at Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — UPI — Mike Souchak, the happy-go-lucky warrior from Durham, N. C., by way of Grossinger, N. Y., is in a position today to make monkey out of the "wise guy" gamblers of Las Vegas.

Magnificent Mike, the ex-Duke University football player, went into the second round of the $46,000 Tournament of Champions golf classic today holding a two-stroke lead over the star-packed field.

SOUCHAK CRACKED out a fine six-under-par 66 Thursday — one stroke off the course record — to take a two-point lead over his 25 competitors on the long and tough Desert Inn Country Club course.

Mike was listed at 20-1 odds in the pre-tournament betting, and he sold in the $300,000 Calcutta Pool on Wednesday night for a cheap (for this gambling town) price of $14,500. That compared with $26,000 paid for Gene Littler and $25,500 for Art Wall.

Souchak, one of the biggest hitters in golf, had seven birdies and a single bogey for nines of 34-32.

RIGHT ON HIS trail, however, came another longshot, young John McMullin, the short-swing from Alameda, Calif., with a 34-34-68.

Next in line were still some more longshots — Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex., and the old-timer of the winter tour, Pete Cooper, Lakeland, Fla., each with 69.

Littler had a 71, and that got him a tie with defending champion Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B. C.; Ken Venturi, San Francisco; Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla.; and Paul Harner, Worcester, Mass. Wall had 72 and tied six others at the even par figure.

Palm Springs Indians were still in first place in the Riverside County League baseball race—but not alone.

They had to share the top rung with San Jacinto High as result of a Tiger victory over the Tribe 4 to 2 yesterday afternoon at the Polo Grounds.

The Indians outthrew San Jac but they also out-fumbled them and the baubles were costly. The usual clean-fielding Indians erred twice in the third and that was the ball game.

THE TIGERS got away to an early start and took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first but the Indians came back for one in the bottom half when Bobby Flores got on and Lennie Ruiz singled him home.

But the visitors came back in the top of the third for two more on a hit and two Tribe errors and were out in front 4 to 1 when the last of the sixth started. Stan Cirata gave the Tribe a lift when he doubled and Lennie Ruiz again came through with a timely single to score him.

GOING INTO the bottom half of the final inning trailing 2 to 4, the Indians got two on with one out but Leo Hanks of San Jacinto got the next two men on a pop fly and a grounder to end it.

Yesterday's line score:
San Jacinto 102 000 6-4 1-0
Palm Springs 106 001 5-3 3-2
Hanks and Reed Flores, Segunda (7) and Lewis.

Warren Spahn Just Keeps Rolling Along

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Wondrous Warren Spahn still is confounding the experts—as well as the hitters—today.

One of the major points of discussion during spring training was the question of how long the dazzling 38-year-old left-hander of the Milwaukee Braves could continue as a 20-game winner.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine asked me to keep her two-year-old child while she went on a trip to "see her sick mother"—she said. When she got back she never mentioned her mother but told me how much fun she had with a soldier she met there. She gave this soldier MY name and address and now letters are coming addressed to me on the outside but when you open the envelope there is another one inside sealed and addressed to her. I have no intention of helping a married woman carry on an affair like this. How can I keep out of it?

DEAR NO GO: Tell your neighbor that you want no part of this monkey business and if any more letters come for her, addressed to you, you'll return them to the sender.

DEAR ABBY: Can you hold a man responsible for what he says on his wedding night? My husband made all sorts of promises to me and never kept any of them. The minor ones like taking over the payments on my car did not hurt me so much, but he said he would never love anyone else but me, and he's been seen all over town with other girls. Can you help me?

MARRIED SEVEN MONTHS
DEAR MARRIED: More important than what he "said" on his WEDDING NIGHT are the vows he took on his WEDDING DAY. You can hold him responsible, but you'd better start thinking seriously about how you can hold him, period.

DEAR ABBY: My best girlfriend and her boyfriend broke up after school at 3:30 and at 4:00 o'clock he asked me to go steady. I told him I would have to ask my mother and he should call me after supper. He called me at 7:00 p.m. and I told him I couldn't talk my mother into it yet but if he waited until tomorrow I would have the answer for him. In the meantime, my girlfriend called up and told me to hurry up and get permission because she had a chance to go steady with another guy, but she promised her old boyfriend she wouldn't leave him with nobody. I can't get my mother's permission to go steady and my girlfriend wants to change steadies, so what am I supposed to do? — IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Tell your girlfriend if she wants to change steadies to go ahead but she has no right promising her old boyfriend a new girlfriend and asking you to be it.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your honest opinion of what I am going to ask you. What do you really think of a husband who is far from perfect himself, who professes great love for you and then tells you to your face that you are ugly without make-up? I have practically lost all feeling for him over this and wonder if possibly I can be wrong. Thank you kindly.
UGLY WITHOUT MAKE-UP

DEAR UGLY: Your husband's choice of words is something less than exquisite but I think he means well. Don't be upset over this. Kiss and make up and make-up and kiss!

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

PRETTY POWERS MODEL Patti O'Quinn, above, has a standing date at Cameron Center's 1,000-car parking lot on Palm Springs' south end "Golden Mile." As "Miss Lucky Parker," her job is to assist the mystery photographer in spotting auto license plates on cars parked at Cameron Center. Those selected are reproduced in The Desert Sun each Saturday, bringing the owners the potted palm tree prize donated by George Cameron, Jr. "Lucky Parkers" may call for their prize at the Cameron offices at 801 Ramon Drive. Cameron, owner-operator of the 12-acre shopping mart, originated the "Lucky Parker" idea as a means of putting the palms back in Springs.

Bids Asked for Two Postal Substations in Village

Bids for operation of two contract postal substations here are being received for the three-year period beginning July 1, according to Palm Springs Postmaster S. M. Williams.

Williams said the deadline on bid filings for the two postal facilities has been set for 2 p.m., May 1.

Wage Report Deadline Told

Thursday, April 30, is the deadline for filing California unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the first quarter of 1959, William W. Webster, auditor in charge for the State Department of Employment in Riverside, today reminded employers.

Penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline, Webster said. Employers needing assistance in preparing their returns may contact Riverside Audit District Office at 3561 Fifth Street, or by telephoning Overland 3-7560.

"and Station No. 2 on or near South Palm Canyon Drive between the 800 and 1400 blocks." The contracts would run through June 30, 1962, Williams added.

UNDER THE BID plan, the postmaster explained, prospective contractors will be asked to submit plans to furnish adequate personnel, quarters — with heat, light and janitorial service. The U. S. Post Office Department assumes responsibility for required postal forms and other supplies. The postmaster said that forms and additional information on the program is available by calling at the office at 849 North Palm Canyon Drive.

Gardening in the Desert

Last week we were, shall we say, interrupted in a dissertation on the many plans that now race our gardens. Here are a few extra facts of the growth of dates.

When it was discovered that roving dates from seeds could ever become a commercial item the U.S. Agricultural Department reported offshoots from Algeria, the first batch that came through arrived in a wretched condition and proved sterile. A group of evergreen men in Coachella valley, with the assistance of the U.S. Agricultural Department, decided to make the trip to Algeria, persuade the Algerians to sell their offshoots, oversee the wrapping of the offshoots and study the location in the ship's hatches.

INCIDENTALLY 7 TO 14 offshoots grow on each date palm and are separated from the mother tree by expert cutters. Later the regions where the Euphrates and Tigris flow were visited, the regions where the softer dates grow. Offshoots of those trees were also imported.

Thanks to those early timers who labored and sweated, the men who eventually brought the desert region of Southern California into prominence and made it the spot where the finest dates in the world are grown.

THE PASSION Flower Vine, of which there are about 300 species, was originally a native of tropical South America. About 10 species were originally brought into America by those more than busy Spanish missionaries who had named it the Passion Flower because, in parts of the flower they saw a resemblance to the instruments of Christ's Crucifixion.

They figured the fringe represented the crown of thorns, the three styles the nails of the cross, and the five antlers the jacks of the wounds. The five petals and five sepals symbolizing the Apostles; omitting Peter who denied and Judas who betrayed.

THE OLIVE TREE was said to be cultivated by the Romans as far back as 600 B. C. It also was introduced into California by Spanish missionaries around 1770.

Grapefruit — not the luscious grapefruit of today we feel sure — was originally native to the East Indies and, over 2,000 years ago was cultivated in India and Malaya. From the resemblance of its bunches to bunches of grapes it was called grapefruit. It had other names in tropical countries, shaddock, pumelo and pompel-mous.

Around 1900 it was established in Florida and California and later spread into Arizona. A gentleman from Pasadena, a fervent student of horticulture, whose name eludes me for the moment, deserves our blessings because, by his diligent labors turned the grapefruit of past centuries into the luscious fruit of today.

From all this you will no doubt feel that we owe a debt to the many places or origin and those places of origin should bow to California and other parts of our country for improvements made by our people.

AHEAD OF US WE have the days when most of the gorgeous flowers that grow from bulbs will have completed their efforts for this season. Gladioli, Iris, Tulips, Daffodil and Jonquil, Narcissus, etc., store their future food in a modified root like the tuber or in a modified stem called the corm, rhizome or bulb.

When they have finished don't be in a hurry to cut off those drooping, slowly drying leaves. The above mentioned plants rely on the fading leaves for food for the future. If the leaf residue worries you it is permissible to cut off about a third of it but leave the remainder until it has dried down to the soil level.

WE SHOULD BE thankful that here it is not necessary to pull out the bulbs and stow them away, our winters are not that cold. We follow the custom of uprooting the bulbs, corms, rhizomes, or tubers (to lots of people they are all bulbs) each third year so that new bulbs, etc., can be broken off the mother and there will be more flowers next season.

When the time comes to plant bulbs, etc., we will give you the individual location, choice of the soil and depth at which each type of bulb should be planted. These depths differ from those suggested for planting outside our Desert. T.G.M.

City Council Sets Meter Program During Summer

Palm Springs City Council this week approved the closing down of parking meters on various Palm Springs streets for the summer months, between June 8 and Aug. 30.

All the parking meters in use during the winter will be taken out, cleaned and repaired and made ready for operation next fall.

During the summer months, however, meters will continue to operate in the following areas:

Palm Canyon Drive from Alejo to Arenas; on the west side of Indian from Amado to Arenas; between Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon on Amado, Arenas and Andreas; on Tahquitz between Belardo and Indian; and the Oasis Public Parking lot.

As meters are cleaned and repaired, they will replace meters in use in these areas, and by fall all the meters will have been completely reserviced.

PALM DESERT — Mrs. Faye Kennebeck has returned from a four day visit to Los Angeles where she welcomed home her son, John, and daughter-in-law, Donna, from a European tour. The purpose of Mr. Kennebeck's tour was to make a survey of unusual hotels and tours on the continent for "Airlansea" in Palm Desert.

Slow Starter

NEW YORK (UPI) — An atomic clock — the most accurate timepiece ever devised by man — was installed in a bank building under construction here to record the exact age of the structure at any particular time during the next 200 years.

Only trouble is that the clock will forever be 20 minutes slow. Mayor Robert Wagner was late for the ceremony at which the activating button was to be pushed.

Palm Desert Road Project Gets Added Push This Week

A petition by property owners for immediate action to pave Avenue 46 from Sinead Road to Cook Road and to extend it by a curve into Paintbrush, and also to extend and pave Cook Road from Highway 111 to Avenue 46 in the Palm Desert area was referred by the Board of Supervisors this week to the road department.

A previous request for extension of Cook Road from Highway 111 to Avenue 46 was referred to the planning commission and road department April 6. Property owners who signed the petitions have said that the extension and improvement of Cook Road would relieve traffic congestion.

The more recent petitioners claimed that the improvement would also provide the majority of the residents of the Palm Desert area with "free and safe access" to shopping areas and would afford freer access to Portola Avenue and south to Highway 74 or north to Avenue 40 after the Portola extension is completed.

Gurley's Zoning Appeal Denied

The appeal by J. E. Gurley on the denial by the planning commission of his petition for a change of zone in the Indian Wells area was denied by the Board of Supervisors this week. The proposed change would have allowed Gurley to subdivide property north of Mountain View Drive with lots smaller than the 12,000 square foot minimum allowed in existing zoning.

The board's action was taken on motion by Supervisor George Berkey after it was learned that Gurley's attorney, Frank R. Moore of Indio, had requested that the application be withdrawn. "It is Gurley's intention not to press for the change of zone on his property at this time," said Moore.

No one was on hand to speak either for or against the proposed zoning changes. Last week a proponderance of opposition to the change was voiced by numerous property owners in the area. The hearing was continued at the request of Gurley who was unable to be present "due to income tax complications."

Palm Springs First Lady Feted on 80th Birthday

"Oh, to be 80... and to grow old as gracefully as 'Auntie Pearl'... was the expression most frequently heard at the fabulous birthday party at the Tennis Club on Wednesday, which was a complete surprise to Pearl McCallum McClure, First Lady of Palm Springs.

Lovingly planned and arranged by Mrs. John (Lillian) McClure and Joann McClure, the luncheon party assembled some of the many friends who love and respect the honoree, to pay affectionate tribute on the occasion of her 80th birthday.

The guests assembled early in the Venetian Room, where they sipped champagne punch while they awaited the arrival of Mrs. McClure, who had been invited a half hour later than any of the guests. It was only when she walked through the door and was greeted with 'Happy Birthday' salutations, that Mrs. McClure discovered the party was for her instead of someone else, who had been named on her invitation.

It was a beautiful affair with many gifts, but it was the guests who received a gift they won't forget soon. After luncheon, Mrs. McClure stepped to the microphone, and calmly and casually started to talk about the early days.

She reminisced that in those days, birthdays were apt to come and go unnoticed, and there was no social life except for an occasional picnic in some nearby canyon, or a day's outing on horseback.

She said simply, that it was a great thrill to have lived long enough to see such an elegant party being given in the Village, where she came as a pioneer and lived many years when life was more difficult than it is today.

"The thrill of this beautiful party is appreciated even more by one who has seen elegance come to the desert."

Bougainvillea Room of the Tennis Club was the luncheon setting, and the pink table cloths were spread with colorful spring carnations and lilac. A massive lilac and carnation bouquet was centered with a beautiful gold "80" and stood in the middle of the room with a large U-shaped luncheon table arranged around it. On an other nearby table was the huge birthday cake, which "Auntie Pearl" insisted in sharing for the cutting ceremonies with two other birthday girls, Virginia Dollard and Bertha Robbin, whose natal day was the same as hers.

In addition to the women guests assembled to honor the 80th birthday of the First Lady, a group of Palm Springs men came to the party. They were seated at a table hosted by Mayor Frank B. Bort. In that party were: Ned Bishop, who has had his 80th birthday, and Raymond Croe, who is also over 80. Others present at that table were: Ray Ryan, Roy Colegate, Dick Edwards, John Pochma from France, Earl Cordrey, Fred Ingram, Tom Kieley, Mort Ullman and Jimmy Cooper.

Among the women invited to be a part of the 80's celebration by the two hostesses were: Mrs. Ruby Fallgren, Vicki Malouf, Peg Waters, Virginia Dollard, Effie Banks (who is just past 80), Emma Gayle, Flo Brunmark, Lillian Bishop, Mable Dant, Jolie Gabor, Bertha Robbin, Helen Kirk, Kay Obergeil, Margaret Manasse, Genevieve Berg, Helen Braunschweiger, Lillian MacCarthy, Gwen Marcy, Kay Cordrey, Enor French, Hazel Albertson, Vera Prentice, Helen Ryan, Edna Rothbart, Vivian Austin, Janice Doud, Gwen Costello, Florence Murphy, Phyllis Froggatt, Zaddie Bunker, Ethel Luccarelli, B. J. Sanchez, Wrenn Tevis, Alta Robertson, Bonnie Snyder, Shar Cracraft, Helen Henderson, Fran Macleish, Mickey Wheeler, Fern McAlister, Ruth Hardy, Sally Colegate, Edith Edwards, Janice Bogert, Mildred Rio, Beth Scott.

As an added surprise to the day's events, a group of Moral Rearmament personnel drove here from Los Angeles and brought their musical instruments to serenade Mrs. McClure, who has interested herself in the movement. Those who appeared to sing and play were Nellie Valentin of the Philippines, Titi Baer of Switzerland, Eleanor Roots of New York, Howard Boyd of Canada, Paul Trok of Switzerland, John Hopcraft of Kenya, David Allen of Michigan, Herbert Allen of Washington, and Jane Allen of England.

It's been a long time since people and oranges came to Southern California... but a very short span in human history... and the orange groves were flourishing and pueblos turning into cities... before anyone took the desert seriously... There are people who have lived to moan because they missed buying desertland at a dollar or two an acre (these are the same ones who didn't buy on Signal Hill)... This week Palm Springs celebrated its 21st birthday... as a City... but that's like having a Leap Year birthday and only counting one year in four... for people have lived here much longer than that... The Indians first... then the health-seekers in tents... and out of that first little settlement has grown America's Foremost Desert Resort...

In toasting Auntie Pearl McClure on her 80th birthday... Palm Springs has paid affectionate tribute to a woman... who in her life time has watched this happen... and has had a firm hand in its development... Only one heart ache and only one happiness a year... would add up to a lot of heartaches and a lot of happiness during her 80 years... for she has wound her heart strings around Palm Springs... loving it so dearly and caring about its welfare so deeply that she seldom leaves it even during the summer months...

Thinking about Auntie Pearl reminds you of the old saying... that a good woman is like a fiddle... age which improves in value and sweetness of tone...

This year as she assumed the personal supervision of the beautiful Tennis Club... which she dreamed up, designed and built... Palm Springs First Lady has found a new interest... and has been a gracious hostess to the many celebrities who visit here...

Her friends think she has new verve... and her keen interest in life continues unabated... Her own wish for her friends is a "Happy 80th Birthday to all of you"... and the wish of her friends is that she will celebrate many more birthdays... and on the Palm Springs calendar... we'll add a tiny jewel to mark April 21...

Mention birthdays... and you

WAIF Raises $15,000 for Charity

At their first meeting since the glamorous Emerald Ball at El Mirador on March 14, board members of Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF learned that their efforts had raised around $15,000 for charity.

In making the announcement Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, chairman of Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF, paid tribute to Mrs. William B. Malouf, chairman of the Ball, and to Mrs. Glenn Austin and her committee, whose work with the Emerald Ball calendar year book raised a substantial sum.

Mrs. Kirk also thanked all the members who sold tickets, arranged seating, arranged the program and door prizes, telephone, and did all the multitude of chores necessary to assure the success of the big charity Ball which also turned out to be one of the outstanding social events of a gala winter season. "Successful money raising does not just happen," Mrs. Kirk said. "It is always due to the whole-hearted efforts of everyone working together."

One half of this amount remains in Palm Springs for the benefit of children in the desert locality, and the other half will be presented to Jane Russell, president of WAIF, for the use of WAIF-International Social Service work in processing orphans for adoption in this country.

The announcement was made at a meeting held Monday in the Maloufs' Playhouse where members of the board of Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF and active members of the group met for the first get-together since the highly successful Emerald Ball, where the proceeds were raised.

Next meeting of the Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF will be the Annual Meeting slated in early May when both Active and Associate members gather for an 11 a.m. meeting followed by luncheon in the Tennis Club. Invitations to this meeting will be in the mail soon.

At this final meeting the new slate of officers will be elected and installed for the 1959 - 1960 season. WAIF was organized in Palm Springs three years ago by Mrs. Malouf, who served as its president the first two seasons.

New Play Showing at Padua Hills

CLAREMONT — The 28th annual spring play of San Ysidro's Fiesta, "En el Mes de Mayo" has opened a seven weeks run at Padua Hills Theatre.

Exotic songs and dances are featured in the stirring production, which was written especially for The Mexican Players by the late Charles A. Dickinson.

Directed by Eligio Herrera, the play brings Rogelio Alfaro and Celia Garcia into the romantic spotlight, while stellar roles are also played by Maria Prado, Ausencio Gutierrez, Maria Abundiz, Manuel Gonzales, Armida Maldonado, Alma Bielma, Manuel Vera, Nella Franco, Guadalupe Rubio and Gregorio Valadez.

San Ysidro, patron saint of the Mexican farmer, symbolizes the hopes of those who till the soil the world over, for without rain there can be no food. This is particularly true of southwestern Tamaulipas, the home of the Huasteca Indians, where the play is set.

Ritual dances of the play have been drawn from all over Mexico and are as universal and timeless to that nation as the ever-present need for life-giving rain.

Presented in English, "En el Mes de Mayo" means in the month of May. It is staged Wednesday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. with matinees each Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30. The Mexican Players also entertain daily except Mondays in the dining room of non-profit Padua Institute. Reservations may be made by calling NATIONAL 6-1288.

Among the guests admiring the many beautiful gifts the honoree received, were Mmes. William Eisenman, James Scott, John Noyes, Donald Fry, William Fry, Rachel Nommenson, Duayne Beckwith and Thor Frederickson.

MORAL RE-ARMAMENT - ANSWER TO WORLD CRISIS

CYPRUS - A MIRACLE

Chief advisor to Archbishop Makarios, Zenon Rossides (left) talks with Turkish editor A. E. Yalman about the part Moral Re-Armament played in the miraculous settlement of Cyprus. Rossides told the thousand delegates at MRA's Assembly center in Caux, Switzerland (background) that because he approached them in the spirit of MRA he was able to hold high level discussions in London and Athens which "proved most effective in paving the way for agreement."

Yalman, editor of Vatan, said because of what he had learned from MRA he flew to Athens and spoke to the Greek press. In response the Athens daily, Vima, took the unprecedented step of publishing an article by him calling for Cyprus to be "a link instead of a barrier between us."

Jean Rous, former political editor of France Tireur, said, "There are close analogies between Cyprus and Algeria. The interests of France and Algeria could be reconciled — what is needed is the will to tackle the basic issues. It is not a question of political formulae, but of human reconciliation. As in the case of Cyprus, I believe the solution lies in MRA."

AMERICA

ADMIRAL WILLIAM H. STANDLEY
Former Chief of Naval Operations and former U.S. Ambassador to Moscow

In a statement last month released to the world press from San Diego Admiral Standley declared: "I have known Moral Re-Armament for 20 years. I know it is effectively answering communism. Moscow attacks it for that reason . . . With Moral Re-Armament America can go on the offensive in the world war of ideas . . . To set the record straight, Moral Re-Armament is not and has never been pacifist. It shares equally in importance with material re-armament. Moral Re-Armament ranks with the highest form of patriotism and is providing an irreplaceable national service . . . Rajmohan Gandhi, grandson of Mahatma Gandhi, said to me, 'For India the choice today is Moral Re-Armament or communism.' I believe the same choice confronts America — Moral Re-Armament or communism."

BERLIN - NEW HOPE

Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt (right) greets veteran British Member of Parliament, John McGovern, in Los Angeles. On Frank Buchman's 80th birthday last June Mayor Brandt cabled Berlin's support and greetings. Recently Fritz Amrehn, Deputy Mayor of Berlin, declared at the MRA Caux Assembly, "Berlin is only the crystallization point of a much greater ideological conflict. We shall win if we are absolutely determined and if we are clear never to yield morally or allow any compromise on principle. We return to Berlin strengthened and with new hope."

SWITZERLAND

The President of the Swiss Confederation, Paul Chaudet (right) at the Caux Easter Assembly with Brigadier von Erlach of the Swiss General Staff.

Speaking at the assembly the President, who is also Minister of Defense said, "The modern world lives under the pressure of fear—fear which makes hundreds of thousands of human beings say, 'It is better today to go on living even in servitude than to fight again for the defense of our liberty.'"

"In face of the pressures, we can wish for nothing better than to see a force of which you are the instruments—a force of unity and love—gradually win the world, freeing men and women of their fear."

AFRICA - HATE FREE

The Prime Minister of Eastern Nigeria, Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe (left) called for a "hate-free, fear-free, greed-free continent" at a special session of the Eastern House of Assembly. He is seen here greeting his former bitter political enemy, Professor Eyo Ita, first leader of Government Business in Eastern Nigeria. Professor Ita's apology to Azikiwe on his return from the MRA Assembly at Mackinac Island, Michigan, created "a bombshell of unity" according to the newspapers.

DR. FRANK N. D. BUCHMAN

Initiator of MRA — MESSAGE FOR MORAL RE-ARMAMENT ASSEMBLY, KYOTO, JAPAN, MAY, 1959

The world is eagerly awaiting a statesmanship that creates unity and answers hate. Without such unity man will inevitably destroy himself. With it he will create a hate-free, fear-free, greed-free world. That is our objective, and that is the way of the nations morally rearmament. It is the road of the future which millions are taking, where nations go not left, not right, but straight. This is the way to the greatest era of all time where the hunger in men's hearts as well as in their stomachs is fully satisfied and where peace at home and between nations becomes normal. Asia can lead the way. God can immediately answer humanly impossible problems and bridge seemingly insuperable divisions. It is the answer to our economic needs, our political confusion, the threat of war. The secret is real honesty leading to real change. The key is clean hands, a pure heart, and willing obedience to the inner voice that speaks to everyone everywhere who is ready to listen and obey. One man wholly committed to absolute standards of honesty, purity, unselfishness and love, and obedience to God's will can help a continent find the right way. One continent free from fear, want and hate will lead the whole world into the next stage of history. Asia can be that continent. Each of us can be such a man.

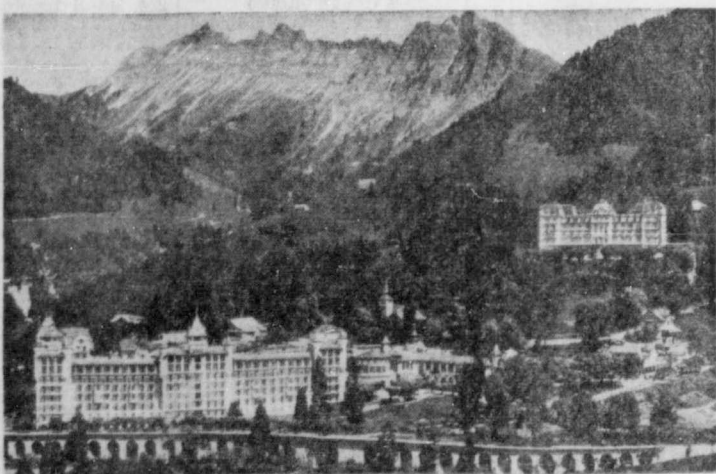

BUDDHIST WORLD

The Lord Abbot of Wat Mahadhatu, highest Buddhist authority ever to visit the western world, is seen at the Moral Re-Armament Assembly on Mackinac Island. As Minister of the Interior for Ecclesiastical Affairs of Thailand, he is responsible for 200,000 Buddhist monks. The Lord Abbot said, "We must get the four standards of MRA to the whole world, including Russia. We must love not only our friends but also our enemies and we must be ready to sacrifice even our lives to spread MRA throughout the world."

ASIAN GENERALS

General Ho Ying-chin (right), Chairman of Taiwan's Military Strategy Board and former Prime Minister of China, with founder of the Korean Air Force, Lieutenant General Choi Yong-Duk, at the MRA World Assembly on Mackinac Island. Said General Choi, "Dr. Buchman has given the world a moral and democratic ideology which the Communists fear because it is causing countless Communists to doubt and it is winning away some of their best trained men." General Ho said, "In the free world only Moral Re-Armament has an ideology superior to Communism. If we had had MRA we would not have lost the mainland."

CAUX, SWITZERLAND

Headquarters for training to put freedom on the offensive in the global conflict of ideas at Mackinac Island, Michigan and Caux, Switzerland. Since 1946, 120,000 of the leadership from 118 countries and territories have come for ideological training at these Moral Re-Armament centers. From May to October this year further thousands from the Americas, Europe, Asia and Africa will take part at both centers and take this inspired ideology of democracy to their nations.
